

To Whom it may concern:

I understand the need to regulate public broadcasts and public airways, but the government should not control the actual programming line up of satellite radio. Too much government is too much government. Free speech goes for space as well as right here on Earth. Leave my XM alone.

Charles Brunson